Judge Terrell Wins

HIS ENEMIES KNOCKED OUT
John R. Francis Makes a Manly Defense of a Worthy Move—J. H. N. Waring Ignominiously Defeated—Rev. Grimkie Gets Warm in the Collar and Tells President Thirkield What Ought to Be Done Strong Endorsement of Judge Terrell.

For some time J. H. N. Waring, formerly principal of a school in Baltimore, Md., has been waging a war against Judge Robert H. Terrell to prevent him from being a member of the faculty of the law department of Howard University. He solicited and obtained the aid of Rev. Frank Grimkie, Richards and others.

The final fight took place last Saturday in the chamber of Judge Barnard of the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia. Some time ago Judge Terrell was appointed temporarily and he has made one of the best lecturers in the law school. Even Prof. Layton, dean of the department has expressed his gratification. Dr. John R. Francis, no doubt, one of the most level-headed physicians in this city, championed the cause of Judge Terrell and successfully led the fight to victory. Mr. Waring lined up a large number of disgusted individuals last Saturday in and around the chamber of Judge Barnard, who were patiently heard by the Committee of Trustees of the University. Dr. John R. Francis led the fight for Judge Terrell. He said among other things that Judge Terrell's record would stand the test of his traducers. He spoke of his record as chief clerk to the auditor of the navy; his record as principal of the High School; his deportment at the bar and his record as Municipal judge. All of these positions were filled with honor and distinction declared Dr. Francis. Through the delivery of this eloquent appeal he was listened to with marked attention.

Rev. Grimkie read a long essay on morals and concluded with a thrust at Dr. Thirkield which was not received with approval by the committee. He thought another man ought to be president of Howard University because he favored the appointment of Judge Terrell. Dozens of letters, endorsing Judge Terrell were received from some of the leading ministers in this city, namely Dr. S. L. Corrothers, Rev. James H. Howard, Dr. Walter H. Brooks, Rev. Rivers, Rev. Sterling N. Brown, 'the judges of the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia and of the bar. All spoke in the highest terms of Judge Terrell. After the opposition had its innings a vote was taken which resulted in almost the unanimous election of Judge Terrell.

Dr. Francis' Sarcastic
At the conclusion of the paper read by Dr. Grimkie, Dr. Francis arose and said that he had never heard a better paper on moral ethics than the one read by Dr. Grimkie. He should read it to a Sunday School or deliver it as one of his sermons on a Sunday to his congregation.

The remarks of Dr. Francis seemed to be unanimously applauded.

HOWARD UNIVERSITY.
Rev. Sylvester L. Corrothers Speaks Out.

Howard University is a negro institution and should be largely if not entirely controlled by negroes. It is strangely true that there is a decided purpose to keep the management in the hands of the whites. Do our friends mean to tell us that after 45 years of freedom we are incompetent to govern our institutions? How can we be tested except by giving us the opportunity? It is by assuming responsibility that development comes. Take the great church organizations of this country and see how they have grown and strengthened under self government. The brain and brawn of the negro race is in the great Methodist and Baptist churches. Wherever the whites have done the managing and taken from the people a voice in their own affairs, there has been nothing but stagnation and death.

The freak of new buildings at Howard University is no assurance that the management is conducting the school to the highest interest of the race. Take the matter of trustees for the university and see how largely the board is made up of white men. We believe in first honoring the alumni of the institution with the positions as trustees of the school, and after due recognition, of alumni the great leaders of the church should not be ignored.

The disregard of the great church organizations of this country in the management of Howard University will mean its downfall. No school can live without students and the students must come from these great organizations. The little so-called educated churches will never furnish students for a great university. The plan to pay no heed to what the people want must be changed. We demand better treatment.

When vacancies occur on the Board of Trustees why should not colored men be found rather than white men? There is at present a vacancy in the Theological Seminary of Howard University. Why not promote the one colored man in that department?

If precedent is followed, a white man will be sought, or if a colored man is placed at all it will be in an inferior position, or possibly an uncolored man without any regard to the constituency of the school. We are opposed to allowing our one great negro school to be managed and taught by so small a proportion of colored people.

To industrialize Howard University as the recent purchase of land would indicate and the ignoring of the intelligent people of the race—alumni and friends alike—will certainly be met by a storm of opposition by all people and friends of the race who believe that Howard University is for colored young men and women, and that they ought to have a larger say in its management and teaching.

Among the great negro denominations that have been ignored by the present administration of Howard University is the African Methodist Episcopal Zion Church with its Episcopal districts, 5,003 ordained and traveling ministers, 41 annual conferences, 672,000 members, 394,000 Sunday School scholars; operating in 36 different states, have been ignored and the prayer of this great church thrown aside to make room for the private citizen, who does not represent any one but himself.

Notwithstanding the fact that we have eleven institutions of learning, with an enrollment of over 1,700. Our bishops and pastors are lecturing and sacrificing day and night to inspire the youth of this great church to seek the very best education possible, and to say the least, the treatment received at the hands of the present administration of Howard University is an insult, and when the House of Bishops and the Connection Council meets in August, somebody will set up and take notice.

SYLVESTER L. CORROTHERS.

ABRAHAM HAYSON

The death of Mr. Abraham Hayson removes from his large circle of friends a man of strong character and a lover of his home. The funeral services from his late residence, at Kenilworth, D. C., were simple and impressive. His Sunday School and societies to which he had been a member for forty years, had many good things to say of him.

Promoted.

Mr. Wm. Haynes has been promoted to $1,800 per annum in the Internal Revenue Department. Mr. Haynes is considered one of the best clerks in the service. He is a young man of ability.

Notice.

A meeting of the Mother's Interdenominational Union will be held at the 10th St. Baptist Church, corner of 10th and I streets, northwest, on Sunday, the 19th, at 4 o'clock. Miss Mattie R. Bowen, Mrs. I. N. Ross, and Mrs. Trigg, of Muskogee, I. T. will deliver short addresses. All women are urged to attend.

Negro Business League.

There was a lively and interesting meeting of the Negro Business League held last Monday evening. President Pittman presided and Mr. Lawson acted as secretary. On motion of Mr. Chase, the league proceeded at once to the election of officers.

Mr. Pittman was renominated and could have been elected, but declined to be a candidate. Mr. Robert L. Waring was elected, unanimously, president, as the successor of Mr. Pittman.

Mr. A. W. Scott thought that the league ought to show its appreciation of the valued services rendered the league by Mr. Pittman by some kind of a testimonial. On motion of Mr. Chase it was decided to tender Mr. Pittman a supper next Monday evening at Martin's Cafe. As a further evidence of the esteem in which Mr. Pittman is held by the league, he was elected one of the delegates to the National League, which is to meet in New York next August, and chairman of the delegation. Other officers were elected as follows:

Daniel Freeman, first vice-president; Mr. Underdown, second vice-president; Mr. Lawson, recording secretary; Mr. Hernane, corresponding secretary; Mr. Robinson, treasurer; E. Murray, chaplain, and John Lewis, sergeant-at-arms.

After the transaction of other minor business the league adjourned. The new officers will be installed next month.

GREAT AVENUE SAFE

Trade's Talons Not to Grip
Famous Champs Elysees.

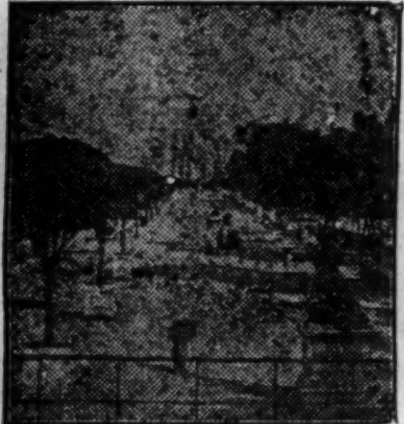

Not Even a Philharmonic Palace Will
Be Tolerated on Proud Paris Thoroughfare and Children's Paradise Along Its Course.

Paris.—The probability that the Champs Elysees, the noblest avenue in the world, will always be preserved as an artistic promenade and a children's paradise has been strengthened by action just taken by the municipal council of Paris. The council not only refused to grant a permit for the construction of a Philharmonic palace on the site of the now defunct summer circus, but voted to investigate concessions previously granted, looking to the removal of some of the music halls and restaurants now flourishing there.

This official action is in keeping with the true Parisian spirit. The one occasion on which the Frenchman loses his purse strings without a murmur is when an expenditure for municipal embellishment is proposed. No other city watches over the beauty of its boulevards and parks with such jealous care. Succeeding municipal administrations differ widely on all other points, but whether the government is nationalist or socialist, its first aim is invariably to maintain intact the artistic inheritance of Europe's most beautiful capital.

There was almost a revolt, 13 years ago, when a tramway company asked a concession for a track across the avenue in a side street. This right was finally bestowed but had the council granted a subsequent application for a track along the Champs Elysees itself the lives of the city legislators would have been threatened by an aroused populace.

The single track across the driveway has always been regarded as a scar. It is not improbable that in a few years the tramway company will be required to construct a tunnel beneath the surface of the street. It is by underground passages that the city already is proposing to handle the foot traffic without interfering with the perpetual stream of vehicles or marring the beauty of the thoroughfare through the construction of viaducts. The first of these anean passages, leading from side to side of the Avenue des Champs Elysees, has only recently been opened. If this proves as popular as is expected other such tunnels will be constructed under other busy thoroughfares, notably the grand boulevards.

The parkway known as the Champs Elysees, or Elysian Fields, was laid out near the end of the seventeenth century. It was called the Grand Cours at first and was given its present name in the time of Louis XVI. The avenue itself is more than a mile long and is lined from the Place de la Concorde to the Arc de Triomphe, with pine, lime and chestnut trees. The promenade is the favorite afternoon drive of the fashionable world of Paris and it is there that the badaud, or French cockney, is seen to perfection. On one side is a park, 750 yards long and 40 wide, which is filled with cafes chantants and such amusements and amusement-providers for children as jugglers, marionettes, merry-go-rounds and chocolate vendors. Here idolizing parents stand for hours watching their petit bonhommes caracolling on wooden horses, while la bonne, in a snowy cap, holds the babies.

At night the thoroughfare, brilliantly illuminated, offers a vivid suggestion of fairyland.

The Avenue des Champs Elysees is one of the "lungs" of Paris. At each end and all about it are places of importance in the life and history of the city and the state. It almost skirts the River Seine, the Grand Palais and the Petit Palais, where there are great art exhibitions, separating the park from the quays at one point. An avenue starting at the Champs Elysees, between the two buildings, crosses the river on the beautiful Pont Alexandre III. and leads to Napoleon's tomb.

On the opposite side of the Champs Elysees is the Palais de l'Elysee, the official residence of the president of France. It was once the home of Mme. de Pompadour and was occupied in later years, successively, by Murat, Napoleon I., Louis Bonaparte and Queen Hortense, Emperor Alexander I. and Duc de Berri.

The throngs of motorists, carriage drivers, horse riders and bicyclists who visit the Bois de Boulogne traverse the Avenue des Champs Elysees first. Beyond the Arc de Triomphe the Bois de Boulogne leads up past Princess de Sagan's pink marble palace to the famous woods.

HISTORIC VIRGINIA HOME.

House Where George Washington's Mother Lived and Died at Fredericksburg Still Standing.

Washington.—Not many tourists visit the house in which the mother of George Washington lived and died in Fredericksburg, Va. The Washingtons, or the branch of that large Washington family which played so great a role in American history, left the Pope's Creek's farm, later called "Wakefield," in Westmoreland county, about three years after the birth of George Washington. The family removed to another Washington farm in Stafford county on the north bank of the Rappahannock river, opposite Fredericksburg. It was there that much of the boyhood of Washington was spent. It was there that the mythical exploits of chipping down the cherry tree, etc., were performed. After George Washington and his brothers had left this farm and after the marriage of Betty Washington to Maj. Fielding Lewis of Fredericksburg, Mrs. Mary Washington bought a cottage in Fredericksburg, close to "Kenmore," the home of her daughter, and resided there many years. She died in that cottage August 25, 1789.

The cottage is a plain two-story frame dwelling standing at the corner of Charles and Lewis streets—two village streets deep in dust or mud according to the weather. The house is heavily shaded by old sycamore trees and is furnished with Washington and other Virginia relics. It is owned and cared for by the Society for the Preservation of Virginia Antiquities. The superintendent is R. C. Beale, who, with his wife, occupies the house.

The big living room on the ground floor and to the left of the entrance is that in which Mrs. Washington died. As nearly as possible it is preserved as Mrs. Washington kept it. A rare old mahogany tester bed stands on that part of the floor where stood Mrs. Washington's bed. The original bed is owned by a member of the Washington family. The walls are lined with steel engravings which belonged to Mrs. Washington, and some of these were her property when she was Mary Ball, before her marriage to Augustine Washington, and came from her girlhood's home, "Epping Forest," in Lancaster county, about thirty miles from Fredericksburg. The room in the rear of this living and sleeping room was the dining-room, and the same table around which the Washingtons ate stands in the middle of the floor. The dining-room is bare of carpets or rugs and was in Mrs. Washington's time. The furnishings are plain and simple.

WORK OF PRACTICAL JOKER.

The Corriere di Rome, which published some time ago a copy of a document said to have been found in the library at Bergamo containing an account of "an airship voyage across the English channel in 1751," is receiving much attention at the hands of investigators. In the Tribune's notice of this alleged achievement, in which a monk named Grimaldi, of Civita Vecchia, was the chief actor, it was stated that there was nothing in the Italian paper's article to indicate that it was not written in good faith. "Now," writes an Englishman from Rome, "the records of Civita Vecchia are being searched in vain for a Grimaldi and the papers of England for a story of the flight. The document may be in the library, but who was the practical joker who placed it there?"—New York Tribune.

Wireless-Telephone on Warships.

According to daily press reports wireless telephony has not proved an unqualified success on the battleship fleet. It was impossible to send messages over any great distance except under the most favorable conditions and when the telephone was in use the telegraph had to keep silent.

False Doctrine.

The late Dr. Theodore Wolf, professor of chemistry at Delaware college, set offshooters a rare example of unselfishness by having his fees as a state chemist greatly reduced on the ground that they were exorbitant.

"Dr. Wolf," said a Newark man, "was a delightful lecturer. I often dropped into the college to hear him. I'll never forget one of his lectures on quack medicines."

"He told us about an early patient of his, a man who dosed himself with about a half-peck of pills and two or three gallons of quack medicine every week."

"There was nothing the matter with the fool, but all this silly medicine swilling, and Dr. Wolf told him so, but it did no good."

"Then Dr. Wolf appealed to the man's wife to stop him, but she declared that it couldn't be done. She had quoted at him, again and again, she said, the verse in the liturgy that pointed out his sin, and—"

"But where," interrupted Dr. Wolf, bewildered, "where does the liturgy say anything against taking quack medicine?"

Hot air was salable what a lot of merchants Washington would have. Knocking was a profession what a lot of graduates this town could furnish.

All office holders had been as provident as Dancy retiring from office would not be a terrible blow.

Some colored men only knew their limitations what a lot of trouble would be saved the appointing power. The School Board is to furnish commencement orators from its own

There are many colored families who are living in crowded houses on small plots of land in towns or cities who want real freedom and real opportunity for themselves and for their children. It is very difficult to rear children in a crowded town or city. The place to rear children is in the country.

In Macon County, Alabama, the colored people have a rare and exceptional opportunity. This is the county in which The Tuskegee Normal and Industrial Institute is located. There is plenty of good land for sale on easy terms. There is a good schoolhouse, and the school term lasting from seven to eight months in every part of the county. The white people in Macon County are of the very best class. There is no disorder or racial trouble. We advise colored people who are now living in crowded towns or cities, in the North or in the South, and especially those who have children to raise to come to Macon County and buy a home where they can get plenty of land to cultivate and rear their families in the county free from the temptations of the cities and towns.

WORTH ADVERTISING FOR

There are 5,499 Negroes employed here in Washington by the Government alone, and these 5,499 Negroes draw salaries aggregating $3,044,404. These more than three millions of dollars are spent right here in Washington, but scattered among the hundreds of tradesmen. Is this amount of money worth bidding for? It certainly is, and not even the largest stores in this city would refuse to get the big end of it did they but realize how much money the Negroes are really spending.

Now The Bee is the only Negro publication in this city. It stands without a rival or competitor, and covers the field like a few of the merchants in this city will patronize the advertising columns of The Bee, presenting the attractive bargains they may have these Negroes—these 5,499 Negroes who draw annually from the Government over three millions of dollars—will assume that by patronizing a publication edited and operated by one of their race that such firms desire and deserve their patronage. And such firms will receive the bulk of these over three millions of dollars received and spent by the Negroes of Washington.

What clothing stores, what furniture stores, what dry goods stores, and what other lines of business will now make an effort to divert to themselves these over three millions of dollars spent by Washington Negroes by advertising in The Bee?

Place your advertising in The Bee and watch these 5,499 appreciative Negroes spend their over three millions of dollars with you.

Now is the time to advertise in The Bee, the newspaper that goes into every Negro home in Washington. Remember, merchants of Washington, it's what advertising pays you, not what it costs.

THE REPUBLICAN PARTY.

Our esteemed friend, Rev. Mr. Waldron, in a recent speech or interview advises the colored Americans to divide their vote, that is he would advocate colored voters supporting the Democratic party. Is such advice plausible and logical under existing conditions and circumstances? The Bee believes in the colored Americans supporting men irrespective of their political affiliations when such men believe as Ex-Governor Glenn, of North Carolina, does. It is true that there are democrats in this country who believe in according equal rights to Colored Americans, but to advocate or advise colored Americans going over to the Democratic party, it is wrong when we know that the principles of the Democratic party, as a whole, believes and advocates the disfranchisement of colored Americans, such advocacy is dangerous and impolitic. Is not Rev. Waldron aware that the Democratic party is inimical to the best interest of colored Americans? He says that the Republican party has deserted the colored man. In what particular we would ask? It is more important to the colored voters to be given the right of franchise than it is to seek a few political offices. General Clarkson found no fault with the Republican party until after his retirement from office. He didn't see the wrongs of the Republican party while he was holding office, but the moment he was forced to retire he comes out and declares, as Mr. Waldron has done, that the Republican party has deserted the colored Americans. It is a case of "sour grapes." It reminds The Bee of two friends who have been companions all their lives and know each others secrets, and after they have fallen out one exposes the other. Office seeking should be an incident and not the direct object of our citizenship. The Bee has not arrived at that point in life where it would advise its friends to support the principles of the Democratic party, when it knows and is conceded that all that colored Americans possess to-day was obtained through the instrumentality of the Republican party. The Bee believes in President Taft although he has not thrown promiscuously to ambitious and unscrupulous politicians public offices. While the Bee believes that the Republican party should reward merit irrespective of color, it is not at all times expedient and judicious. The Bee doesn't believe in the Government practicing discrimination against any class of citizens, but at the same time there is a way to overcome such evils by becoming political factors in the body politic. The way to become factors is to unite on men irrespective of their party affiliations and when such men, be they Democrats or Republicans, believe in equality of citizenship. The Democratic party has not offered any inducements to the colored voters to support it, but to the contrary it has done and continues to do acts to drive colored Americans away from it. Rev. Waldron is wrong in his premises and conclusions, and all other liberal advocates of the divisions of the colored vote.

HIS OWN ENEMY

The colored American complains of his condition. He declares that the white man is against him. Before and subsequent to his emancipation the white man has been his friend. The white man has educated him and for what purpose? The more successful colored American is being nagged by his more jealous rival. The case in question is that of Judge Robert H. Terrell, who is being belittled, abused and criticised by his jealous rival and when he could not substantiate the charges against him he had to confess that the judge had been wrongfully treated and unjustly abused. The picture these jealous individuals placed before the friends of the race was a scene that the white man looked upon in disgust.

Will the colored man ever learn any sense? The more education some of them receive the more ridiculous they appear in the eyes of intelligent people. How must the more reserved and liberal white man feel when he sees the colored man attempting to degrade the more fortunate in the race. The Bee has made every effort to defend the rights and liberties of its people. But what is the consequence? Let the more liberal minded answer the question. The colored American is against himself, and until he does better he will forever be the "hewers of wood and drawers of water."

Howard University indorse the attack of Dr. Grimkie on the president of Howard University. The Bee has always admired Dr. Grimkie for his Christian character, but it cannot agree with him when he makes such an attack on a man who is and has done so much for colored Americans. What has Dr. Washington done that his friends should be attacked?

Dr. Washington, like Dr. Thirkield, is, and has done great work for the masses of the colored people. Neither need any defense by The Bee. Both are able to take care of themselves. It is an aphorism too true the more you do for some people the more you are damned. Dr. John R. Francis, who led the Terrell forces to victory, is a native Washingtonian, who is honored by all who know him. He has been successful over his fugitive enemies and to-day he stands so far ahead of his traducers that he doesn't know that they exist. The so-called educated negro is becoming just as detestable as the ignorant. The white people and the friends of the colored Americans, are becoming tired.

JUDGE TERRELL.

The Bee stated last week that a few colored men endeavored to prevent the trustees of Howard University from making Judge Robert H. Terrell a member of the law faculty. The traducers failed absolutely, so much so that they have become disgusted with themselves.

The white members of the trustee board of Howard University are thinking of the intelligent and educated colored men make themselves ridiculous, what may be expected from the ignorant and uneducated. The unkind thrust of Dr. Grimkie at the president of Howard University was not manly. No man has done more and is doing more and is saying more in defense of colored Americans than Dr. Thirkield. Will the colored man act ungrateful? No! The Bee doesn't believe that the colored people and the friends of

CAN'T TEACH ASSES.

The Washington Bee is thirty-one years old. It looks it. We congratulate it upon its age. "The Bee is an American citizen," it says joyously. But we cannot find that the Federal Constitution specifies the Bee tribe as eligible to American citizenship. The Bee must be mistaken as to its status as a citizen.—Philadelphia Tribune.

The Bee doesn't expect to teach jackasses, but it did think that a man who has been editing a newspaper for forty or sixty years, like the editor of the Philadelphia Tribune, would have sense enough to know when the editor of The Bee stated editorially that The Bee was an American citizen, that he was referring to himself and figuratively speaking, of the Bee, as an American citizen. The editor of The Tribune should practice how to be funny.

THE TEACHERS' CONTEST

Don't wait until the last week to send in your votes for your favorite teacher. One year's subscription will give you one hundred votes; six months' subscription will entitle you to fifty votes, and three months' subscription will entitle you to 25 votes. Look at the list this week and guess the winners.

W. S. MONTGOMERY.

The Bee takes this occasion to commend the good work in the schools of Prof. W. S. Montgomery, supervising principal of the 10th school division. He is, indeed, popular with his teachers, in fact, with the entire corps of teachers. He loves his teachers and his teachers love him. His name is a household word. The Bee hopes to see him promoted.

OUR NORMAL SCHOOL

The Board of Education would be fully justified in making a change in the head of the Normal School No. 2. The Board of Education will continually be bothered with complaints. If the board desires to be rid of so many complaints and bother it would do a wise act to make a few changes.

BURIED BENEATH CLOUDS.

Our esteemed contemporary, the Washington Bee, with last week's issue, entered upon its thirty-first year of existence. It rejoices in the fact that it lives to see those who started at the same time and since, and who predicted its early death—buried beneath the clouds of the valley of newspaperdom, while it moves along in the even tenor of its way, striking wrong on the left and on the right. The Bee is indeed a wide-awake journal that has done, and is still doing, a whole lot of good for the race. May it live many years yet to tell the news and sound the alarm of impending dangers and conflicts.

OUR 30TH YEAR.

Knockers Knocked Out.

The Washington Bee has just entered on its thirty-first year, and Bro. Chase is to be congratulated on the fact that he has lived so long in face of so many storms, and in spite of such a great number of knockers. May The Bee continue to buzz for the next thirty-one years.—Indianapolis Plaindealer.

COLORED PREACHERS IN POLITICS.

Takes Issue With the Age—J. C. Cunningham's Manly Defense.

We have heard many expressions through some of the negro newspapers that a minister of the gospel should take no part in politics; that he should confine himself to preaching and looking after church affairs, etc.

Says The New York Age: "The political preacher is usually as weak in politics as he is in morals and in money matters." And among other things The Age says: "He degrades his calling and destroys his high name," etc.

At a parting shot, The Age hoots the following at its numerous readers: "The political preacher should go once and for all." Now, be it known to all of the readers of this paper, that the writer is not a preacher, but why it is that so many of the negro papers (and jack leg politicians) are opposed to preachers taking an active part in politics is a mystery that we cannot, for the life of us, understand. What is there, pray tell us, in politics that is so dirty and filthy, that would degrade a minister of the gospel (any more than anybody else) should he condescend so low (?) as to take part in it? If politics be too dirty and filthy for a minister of the gospel, it is not equally too dirty and filthy for the members of his church to be found taking part therein? We should think so. That which is too low and degrading for a preacher to do, is certainly too low and degrading for his congregation to do also. Listen to what our Saviors says along that line:

"When the righteous rule, the people rejoice; but when the wicked rule the people mourn."

Are we told in Holy Writ that there be any righteous outside the ministers and those who attend the house of God? The preacher who always talks to his church members about how to get to heaven and never tell them what to do to better their condition here on earth, is not worthy of the cloth. The trouble is, these negro politicians are afraid the preachers will lead the people right. They have been going around for years assuring the white political bosses that they (the negroes), carry the votes of their race around in their vest pockets, and only the highest bidder may have them. All they want is a fat office and the race may go to hades so far as they (the selfish negro politicians are concerned). But the former negro politicians—those who once have boasted of the fact that they carry the entire colored vote in their vest pockets must go. Their doom is sealed!

As to being "weak in politics as he is in morals and in money matters," we beg to say to The New York Age's learned editor that we fear he is going a little bit too far. There are numbers of preachers—both white and colored—whose "morals" are above reproach and who are fully able to take care of themselves from a financial standpoint. If politics be such a low thing, as is pictured by The Age, why are the leading women of this country striving to be recognized in the political world? Politics is simply a strong "weapon of defense," and the preacher that does not use it, and is not patriotic and man enough to warn his people to do the same, is not worthy of his calling.

Say what you will or may, the negroes of this country are "up against" it, from a political view point, and their only redemption lies in a diversified vote. The negro should not remain in, or go in, as a whole, any one political party. He should be identified in all political parties. And God help him to see the vast mistake he has made in the past along that line of self help. And such wise and race defenders as Bishop Alexander Walters, Rev. S. L. Corrothers, Milton J. Waldron, George C. Clement, and others who dared to show their race manhood, deserve the plaudits of all intelligent men and women of the race. Their work will be echoed back from ages to come. The manhood stand that they took in 1908 will live even when their bones are bleached in their graves. God grant that the day will soon come when the negro's political faith may not be told by the color of his skin.

Out of more than ten millions of negroes in this country, we ought certainly to be strong enough, and true enough to ourselves to have a representative of the race in the United States Congress. The negroes at the South acted well their part in sending race representatives to Congress when they could do so. And the disfranchisement of the colored voters at the South should arouse the colored voters at the North and West, where their votes are counted, to elect a colored representative to the United States Congress. But if such steps be taken it will not be done by the compromising so-called leaders of the race. No, some preachers, with a plenty of backbone about them, will certainly have to take the initiative along that line. The negro politicians, and so-called (self made) leaders, are always ready to trade. They invariably accept an office to which they may be appointed. And the negro who holds an office, to which he is appointed, is absolutely no good to the race. He is not in a place to help enact laws, and he dares not to open his mouth against the wrongs that may be done his people. No, he is perfectly satisfied to hold office, draw a big salary, and boast of the fact that he carries so many thousands of the votes of his race in his vest pocket. Such trading in politics by the so-called leading negroes has been going on for many years; and it is the duty of the "preachers" to thunder these truths from the pulpit until these scheming, compromising, selfish politicians shall have been put out of business, regardless of what The Age and all the rest of the sinners may say to the contrary.

The Blue and White in Greek Flag.

The Greek flag is an unpretentious piece of blazonry consisting of nine stripes of blue and white alternately, with a white cross on a blue ground in the left hand corner. The navy flag has a golden crown in the center of the cross.

Blue and white are the national colors of Bavaria and were adopted by the Greeks as a delicate compliment to the Prince of Bavaria, who accepted the invitation to ascend the throne of Greece when that country had succeeded in wresting her independence from the Ottoman empire.

Death of Miss Ida Countee.

The sad death of Miss Ida S. Countee, one of the teachers in the public schools, whose residence was 216 D St. S. W., and which occurred Friday, June 3, robs the southwest section of the city of one of its popular feminine citizens. She had been in bad health for several years, during which time she was a sufferer, and had recently gotten so much worse that she was forced to remain home and was afterward compelled to retire to her bed which she never left alive.

Miss Countee was one of those young ladies who possessed that amount of sunshine that compelled every one with whom she came in

She was born and reared in South Washington, receiving her early education in the public and high schools of the District of Columbia. She was appointed a teacher in the public schools several years ago, promoted from time to time, and was teaching the eighth grade at the time of her death. She was a faithful worker in the church and Sunday School, and other local departments of the church. She was also a member and faithful worker in other organizations. She was formerly the recording secretary of the Women's Home and Foreign Missionary Society, which position she held until ill health compelled her to resign; was secretary of the society known as "The Young Ladies," and also others. The funeral, which took place Tuesday, June 7th, from the Met. A. M. E. Z. Church, D St. between 2nd and 3rd Sts. S. W., of which she was a member, was the largest held from that church for several years. Long before the funeral procession arrived the big church was taxed to her utmost capacity with societies, school children, and friends of the deceased. Among those societies who turned out to pay the last tribute of respect, was the Blaine Inevitable Auxiliary, the Young Ladies, and the Woman's Home and Foreign Missionary Society of the above church. The floral tributes were of the largest variety of recent date, coming from various organizations and personal friends, they almost hid the rostrum from view.

Rev. A. Ray, the pastor, preached a most powerful sermon, in which he carefully reviewed the useful life of the deceased and urged others to follow her.

Other speakers were Rev. P. A. Wallace, formerly the pastor of the church, and Rev. W. J. Howard, pastor of Zion Baptist Church.

Interment was at Paines. She leaves a father, many sisters and brothers, and a host of friends to mourn her loss.

Grand Secretary James Field Needham, of Philadelphia, passed through this city en route to Richmond, Va.

Mr. Wm. Haynes, of the Internal Revenue Bureau, Treasury Department, has recently been promoted to a clerkship of class 4, which is a well merited promotion.

length of the hall and abutted at its end in a teeshape. Music resonated the air with its terpsichorean tunefulness, while some partook of the fantastic step.

At precisely 9.30 Worshipful Master Robert N. Mattingly, arose from his seat as toastmaster and summoned the guest to refreshment. He addressed the banqueters on "Our Masonic Duty." With a clear and logical outline of the duties of a master Maston, he poured forth an eloquent appeal to Masons to be steadfast and loyal to their fraternity and its members. That their obligations as Masons were to be upheld, fostered and protected as inviolate parts of their Masonic life. He emphasized most rigidly the duty of a Mason as being coeval with the best there is in man; and as the progress and perfection of man so should it be in the Masonic world and life of Masons.

The toastmaster then introduced Brother H. Rapier, pastmaster, who spoke on Pythagoras Lodge. His remarks dealt with the progress of the lodge and its present condition, which he asserted was in an excellent standing. Brother Alexander S. Howard spoke on "The Holy Bible," which was timely and to the point.

The toastmaster then in a few and most timely and reminiscent remarks introduced the honored guest of the evening, Grand Master Nelson E. Weatherless and past master of Pythagoras Lodge. His subject was, "The Grand Lodge." The Grand Master's remarks encompassed the domain of Masonry from its inception and birth, which he said, was extant from the earliest man, 'till now where it has attained all its excellency and power. He traced the beginning of Masonry through all its stages, from the time it was characterized in its material worth, up to its present moral plane. Commendation of the work of the Grand Lodge was well portrayed, and he showed in the fullest manner the gigantic work done by the Grand Lodge since its organization. The Grand Master's speech showed research and mastery of his subject and a uniform connection of Masonic events from its earliest period until now. It was a masterful address and appreciated by all who heard him.

"Pastmasters" was the Subject of a few remarks by Past Master Wm. B. Danridge. For dry wit and humor he was the Samuel Clemens of the evening. He treated with lightness the duties that befall pastmasters in a lodge. "The Ladies" was timely remarked on by Brother John H. Myers, senior warden. There were many ladies present and enjoyed the pleasanties conveyed by his remarks. Pastmaster Jas. T. Beason, spoke on "Master Masons."

In a brief resume he told of the struggles of the lodge to get a footing from the beginning, and how by diligence and hard work it has become the foremost lodge in this jurisdiction. He vividly told of the duties of a master Mason, and advised of the work ahead for newly made Masons and past made Masons.

Pastmaster Robert H. Terrell and wife were seated between the Grand Master and the Worshipful Master. The Worshipful Master called upon Pastmaster Terrell for a few remarks. He forcibly spoke upon the struggles which enmeshed the lodge at its infancy; and was glad he could reflect with perfect regard the wonderful progress of the lodge and its present position in the fraternity. It was a happy reminiscence to be connected with so progressive an organization and such distinguished

GETHESEMANE COMMANDERY

K. T. NO. 3

Gives Royal Reception to Their Auxiliary.

On Thursday evening, from 8 to 12, the upper part of the Northwest Cafe rang with music and merriment, the outpour of which was occasioned by the Sir Knights of Gethsemane Commandery, K. T. No. 3, and the Ladies Auxiliary thereto. Midst the strains of the music, the Sir Knights waltzed and two-stepped with the ladies until 11 p. m., when they repaired to the lower dining room where the table was spread for sixty persons.

Mr. Martin, in his usual good humored way, had prepared a grand menu, and while the Sir Knights and the honored ladies were partaking of the repast, several speeches were made. Eminent Sir Renfro, acting as toastmaster. Eminent Sir Weatherless, Grandmaster of Masons of the District of Columbia, responded to the toast, "Masons in the District of Columbia." Right Eminent Grand Commander Jno. P. Turner, responded to the toast, "Knighthood in the Jurisdiction." Hon. Lady Smith spoke briefly concerning auxiliaries. Eminent Sir Geo. Webster spoke for the "Veterans of Masonry and Knighthood," he having the honor of being the oldest Mason present. Sir J. T. Tascoc spoke concerning the good and welfare of Knights Templar, and Past R. E. G. Commander H. M. Bailey urged upon the Sir Knights the importance of supporting the auxiliary and thanked the ladies for the part they had taken in the affairs of Knighthood. Mrs. Ida Dogans, the president of the auxiliary, responded and in a brief and befitting manner, accepted the thanks tendered the ladies. Among those present were the following: Sirs N. E. Weatherless, Jno. P. Turner, D. I. Renfro, E. W. Shields, A. W. Gray, A. W. Sears, J. E. Norris, Benj. F. Pope, Geo. A. Webster, J. T. Tascoc, Wm. Bryant, H. M. Bailey.

IT IS THE NEW EMANCIPATION PROCLAMATION

WASHINGTON IS THE SEAT OF OUR NATION'S GOVERNMENT.

The eyes of the world are on Washington. One-third of Washington's population is Negro.

If all the Negroes in Washington were colonized in one place they would make a city larger than Richmond, Virginia.

There are seven theatres in Washington, supported by a white population of 241,923—and a few foolish Negroes willing to be colonized in the galleries, the only place to which the Negro is admitted.

THERE IS NOT A SINGLE FIRST-CLASS OFFICE BUILDING in the city of Washington, where a colored professional or business man or woman, and there are hundreds of them in the National Capital, can obtain business quarters.

JUST THINK OF IT! 100,000 enterprising, thrifty, intelligent people, through race prejudice, swept completely out of the business district of Washington; 100,000 genteel, prosperous, amusement loving people deprived of every form of theatrical entertainment unless willing to submit to the most humiliating conditions.

Every colored man and woman IN Washington.

Every colored man and woman VISITING Washington.

Every colored man and woman in America, familiar with the true state of the Negro in Washington, realizes that a theatre, store, and office building, operated by the Negroes, for the Negroes, is A NECESSITY.

The welfare of the race demands it.

The self-respect of the race demands it.

Any enterprise resting its hope of success upon a NECESSITY is bound to be a SUCCESS.

A THEATRE AND OFFICE BUILDING IN THE CITY OF WASHINGTON, built by Negroes, for the use of Negroes, is a NECESSITY.

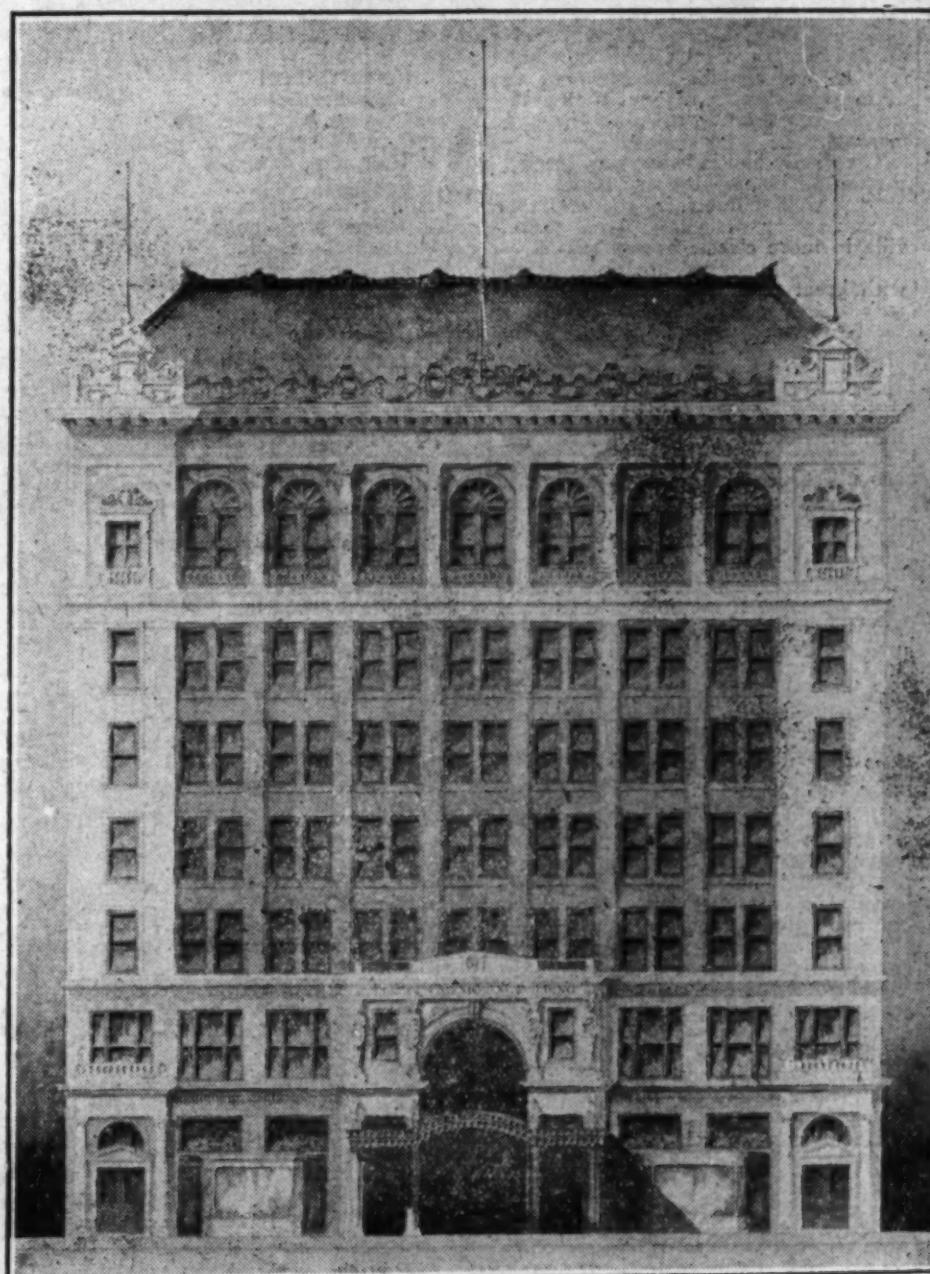

Appreciating to the utmost that fact—THE LINCOLN MEMORIAL BUILDING COMPANY proposes to erect in the Central Business District of the city of Washington a magnificent theatre, seating capacity 2,500, and a store and office building of splendid proportion, adequate in every respect to meet the requirements of prosperous professional and business men.

The enterprise is exceptional in two respects: First—It is absolutely safe.

Second—It promises enormous possibilities as a money maker.

Features that must appeal to every man or woman with a few dollars to invest, and you are such a man or woman or you would not have read this far.

THE LINCOLN MEMORIAL BUILDING COMPANY has surveyed the field carefully, and it KNOWS that hundreds of tenants are available for the offices, that dozens of merchants are ready to rent the stores, and that 100,000 people are anxious to patronize the theatre exclusively, and make it the best paying amusement place in America.

IT KNOWS ALL THIS AND IT INVITES YOU TO PARTICIPATE in an enterprise ABSOLUTELY DEVOID OF RISK, where every dollar will be invested in the best of Washington Real Estate, that increases in value annually at the rate of 5% per cent—nearly DOUBLE bank interest.

Even that is good enough for most people, but the LINCOLN MEMORIAL BUILDING COMPANY will do better than that. It will have offices and stores and lodge rooms, which will earn, on a conservative estimate, at least $23,200 per year. Equal to 5-10 per cent per annum.

It will also have a theatre, which, if patronized at prices ranging from 10 to 50 cents, by only 1 per cent of the total colored population of the city of Washington, will enable the Company to pay 15 per cent on its total capitalization. Equal in all to 20-30 per cent, to which may be added the land value increase of 5% per cent.

Now, all this is Conservatively Estimated. Banks and Insurance Companies engage in enterprises like this with their depositors' and policyholders' money—YOUR money, but YOU get only about 3 or 3 1/2 per cent. The banks or insurance companies keep the balance. THE LINCOLN MEMORIAL BUILD-ING COMPANY is ENTIRELY NEGRO.

Not one dollar of white capital will be accepted in exchange for its securities.

There is not one dollar of Promotion Stock, consequently there is no watered stock.

Every holder of stock from the President down must pay at LEAST $10.00 per share for every share of stock allotted to him.

This does not mean that the price of stock will REMAIN at $10.00 per share. It is $10.00 NOW. It will advance in price far beyond $10.00, just as railroad and public utility stock goes to several times par. So will the Lincoln Memorial Building Company's stock go to several times its present value.

This means that a share of stock costing $10.00 NOW will be worth $40.00 when stock goes to four times par. Estimates show that the Company's earnings will be 30 per cent, and that is four times par, with every dollar invested in Real Estate. THE BEST in the city of Washington, where values are as firmly fixed as the Rock of Gibraltar.

This does not mean that the price of stock will remain at $10.00 per share. It is $10.00 NOW. If the Company, as it is estimated, pays 20 per cent, a $10.00 share of stock will be worth $40.00. If it pays 40 per cent, a single share of $10.00 stock will be worth $80.00. Just as railroads and public utility stocks increase in value, so will the Lincoln Memorial Building Company's stock increase in price.

The first allotment of stock at $10.00 a share is being rapidly subscribed, and the next allotment will be $12.50 per share, to which point it will soon be advanced; therefore, you are urged to avail yourself of the present opportunity to get in as completely on the ground floor as any one of the Company's Directors are.

The Company's Directors, by the way, are men of sterling worth, integrity and honor, as you are possibly aware, or can easily ascertain through any COMMERCIAL AGENCY.

Their names are at the top of this page. They have unbounded faith in the future of the Company. They have invested THEIR hard earned money in it, and they advise you to invest YOUR money side by side with theirs.

DON'T WAIT UNTIL IT IS TOO LATE.

The price of stock is $10.00 per share, payable $1.00 down and $1.00 per month for nine months upon each share subscribed for.

DO IT NOW.

Before you lay this paper down cut out the coupon on the lefthand corner of this page and mail to-day, with remittance for first payment, if for but one share of stock.

We shall be glad at all times to give you any further information desired, and again invite you to join us in this enterprise.

Very truly yours,

LINCOLN MEMORIAL BUILDING COMPANY,

RETREGADING

The opinion of thoughtful colored men and women upon the question as to whether the race is advancing or retrograding and to what degree of rapidity in either direction is very much divided. Some claim that retrogradation in a young race as it were, is against every known law, social and moral. They point to the Germanic, Slavonic, Scandinavian and Celtic races which are comparatively young as evidences of fact, and more especially to the American race, though the youngest and as yet formative, notwithstanding with certain definite characteristics. These races express what they call the law of progress. They go even farther and maintain that the law of progress is universal and applies to all races, young and old. They refer us to the Mongolian race, a very old race, which while its advancement during the past centuries, has been slow, but inevitable, the law of progress is only emphasized in the marvelous growth of Japan and the awakening of China. On the other hand, there are who contend that while admitting the progress of these races during the past century or so, as well as the operation, the law of progress under certain conditions, they affirm that not until there was practical homogeneity in the races referred to, was there any progress whatever. Indeed they contend that prior to this latter condition there was certain and marked retrogression and that the Dark Ages furnish us with the proof of their contention. In determining the condition of the colored race in this country, there opposing opinions are applied. The optimistic philosopher refers to the marvelous advancement of the race in a moral, educational and material way, his adaptability and rapid adjustment to the most approved social conditions and especially his ability

LADIES LOOK!

Every lady can have a beautiful and luxuriant head of hair if she uses a MAGIC. After a shampoo or bath the Magic dries the hair, removing the dandruff and it will straighten the curliest head of hair. The Magic will not burn or injure the hair, because the comb is never heated. The steel heating bar which irons the hair, is alone, put into the flame of the alcohol or gas heater. The Aluminum Comb is easily detached from the heating bar, then, after the hair is heated the comb goes back into place and is held by a turn of the handle.

The Magic Heater is also suitable for curling irons, has a cover and can be carried in a hand bag. Magic Shampoo Drier $1.00. Magic Alcohol Heater $0.50. Liberal terms to agents. Write for literature today.

to organize for purposes of mutual protection and advancement, as a strong proof the progress of the race, not to speak of the growing tendency toward amalgamation, which eventuates in homogeneity. On the other hand, the conservative philosopher sees retrogression in the race. He contends that the morality and education referred to are merely superficial or imitative and points to the great paucity of moral and educational productions written by the colored race, and affirms that the barber, waiter, or favorite valet makes more money than the average farmer, school teacher, or preacher, and that our material prosperity is in the main but an expression of individual and manhood abandonment. The inability on the part of the race to maintain the political rights of which they were in full possession for several years and which the exercise of moderate good judgment, tolerable diplomacy and common sense would certainly have perpetuated, is pointed out as another evidence of the "going back" of the race. This latter philosopher admits that the race possesses millions of dollars in real and personal property, churches, schools and colleges without number, and that through the means of systematic begging from the whites and extortion we cut a smart figure. But he maintains that progress, in the proper sense, does not mean merely the ability to supply the inner man and to clothe and house the outer, though these are necessary incidents. Progress means not only the capacity to write books, build bridges, railroads, stemships, construct philosophies, but the act of producing the actual, tangible book, bridge, etc. It means that to prove ourselves as men we must be men in fact, commanding political rights in the act of exercising them. Our inability in these respects, the unfavorable philosopher shows that we are not progressing. "Where are our friends and their children and grandchildren?" Has the faith of pride of the children and grandchildren in their noble ancestry departed? Why are we now deserted? Our philosopher replies, "because we have been going backward instead of forward; because we have sold our birthright, bought at so inestimable a cost, for a few small loaves and fishes, a pot of devil's broth and an abject willingness to be treated as a social, political and civil nonentity." Our insistent critic cites a commonplace incident in order to show to what extent we are not progressing. "Not long since a colored man came to this city with a show. He came because he had an educated horse to exhibit, the principal attraction. He came under a contract whereby he was to receive a goodly sum for each day's performances, one which seemed a trifle steep, considering the parties to the contract. But the fact is that the horse is truly remarkable for his intelligence and marvelous tricks. His training was not of the ordinary sort, by which almost any horse could be taught, as by consecutive suggestion; but this animal possessed the endowments of calculation, analysis, and differentiation. In fact the horse was a wonder. After a week, the manager, unwilling to give the colored man the wages agreed upon, offered to purchase the horse. On being refused, the manager broke the contract, and left the trainer and his horse without employment. The trainer went from one theater to another, the managers of which stoutly refusing to engage him and his valuable horse. At last he was compelled to enter into a contract with a white man, who readily found an engagement with the management of one of our largest vaudeville theaters, on splendid terms, the trainer and owner of the animal, however, being compelled to take an unconscionably small amount as his share. And this on what condition, do you think? It was on condition that the trainer dress himself like a "plantation darkey" and submit to being called "Uncle Remus," which condition the poor old trainer, under the circumstances, was compelled to accept. When the horse and trainer appeared the first night the audience was in great expectancy and prepared to witness wonderful feats. The trainer appeared on the stage dressed in ante-bellum habit, the veritable picture of "Uncle Remus."

He walked up to his precious friend and sought to induce him to show the audience how smart he was. But the frightened horse would do nothing but kick and stare, as much as to say, "What do you take me for? Do you think that I will act for a back-number like you? My friend represents the present, not the past. My friend and master, or no business" Whereupon the habiliments of "Uncle Remus" were removed and the horse, finding that he was with his real master, proceeded to perform in the most wonderful manner, to the surprise, pleasure and applause of the whole audience. What do you think of that? An intelligent colored man could not even exhibit his horse before a white audience in this city unless he consented to represent himself as a "plantation darkey." Are we going forward or are we being driven backward? Thus considering the progressionists and retrogressionists, the horse and trainer and the white people, we will pass the matter up to our more discriminating reader for a correct answer.

A LOYAL PEOPLE

I noticed in looking over the news of my native town of which about nine thousand are white and three thousand are colored, that the only ones who marched to the national cemetery to decorate the graves of the Union soldiers were colored. And I said thank God my people are a loyal, grateful people who can never forget a good deed in the midst of lily whiteness, Jim Crowism and race discrimination. East, West, North and South, we are true to our trust and we stand by our friends whether they be Northern Yankees, Southern Confederates or just plain friends. And I hope and trust that whatever differences between the races that time will bring forth, that we as a race will never forget to honor the memory of the brave old boys in blue who fought, bled and died that we might taste the blessed fruits of liberty.

THE BOYS WHO FOUGHT FOR US

They're getting old, those boys in blue who once marched so gay, Though some of them are counted young, their heads are getting gray; They're marching over, one by one, to the last long bugle call And our hearts go out to the brave old boys, For we love them, one and all.

They're growing scarce, those boys in blue who answered Lincoln's call, Who swore by the power of their good right arm, this nation should not fall, Who bravely left their peaceful homes to die midst the cannon ball, That the cause of freedom might be won though the nation bathed in gore.

They're leaving us, those boys in blue who fought for you and me, Who mowed down the ranks of the Southern boys that the black man might be free; Our hearts go out in sympathy to their dear ones left behind, In thought, in word or deed, we'll try to be so good, so kind.

There are countless graves of the boys in blue who fought to make us free, That there might be an open door of hope for you and me; Our hearts go out to the brave old boys who answered Lincoln's call We wish them joy and happiness for we love them one and all.

—James Conway Jackson.

To my friends and the public in general:

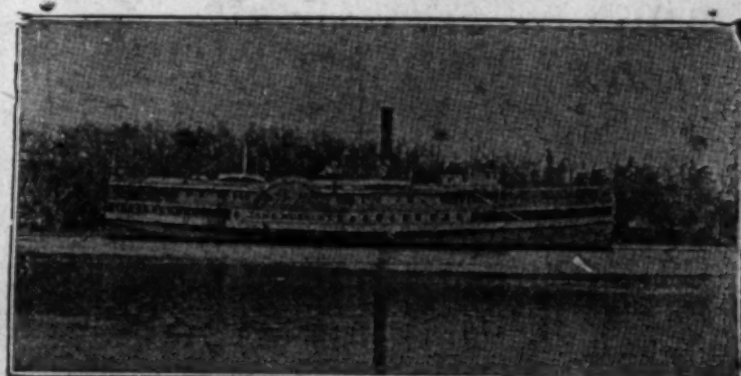

It is with pleasure that I take this opportunity to inform you that the books of the Independent Steamboat and Barge Company are now open for charters for Excursions during the coming season, and it will be to your interest to call at once and secure the most desirable dates.

Our terms are most liberal and charters can be made for

Washington Park and Somerset Beach

To which place we have the exclusive excursion rights as well as Mathias Point, Rock Point, Norfolk, White City, Richmond, Baltimore and all points on the Potomac River and Chesapeake Bay

Our facilities for chartering parties are unsurpassed in every respect. Our large covered wharf (used exclusively for our excursion business) enables us to give you most modern and up-to-date service. No crowding, no exposure and our schedule between Washington and Washington Park does away with the long and tiresome waiting for the steamers.

Before the construction of Washington Park absolutely no place of recreation was afforded the people of our race, and I proudly point to the fact that I have fulfilled the demands of the people in every respect.

You have one of the best and most modern improved resorts in this part of the country. Washington Park with its myriads of electric lights, mammoth scenic railway, huge carousel, dance hall and numerous smaller amusement devices is surpassed in point of natural beauty and modern equipment by no resort south of New York.

By perseverance and an enormous cash outlay I have done this, and now I ask you to show me that I have your hearty support by calling at once and making charters for the coming season.

Yours for pleasure and comfort,
